Navigate Through Times of Change and Complexity

Employees with expertise in business intelligence and data analytics play a crucial role in informed decision-making, translating complex data into compelling narratives, and fostering an evidence-based organizational culture. Salve Regina University's flexible and stackable graduate certificate in business intelligence for organizational progress equips professionals to leverage data to enhance organizational performance and drive progress.

The four-course graduate certificate integrates topics such as quantifying metrics, data visualization, artificial intelligence, ethical considerations and holistic approaches to problem solving. Salve Regina's comprehensive curriculum empowers the next generation of leaders to effectively analyze data, tell stories through data, make informed decisions and optimize business operations.

Additional graduate certificates in leadership include organizational culture transformation and strategic transformation and sustainable management. Certificates may be earned concurrently or sequentially, and students who successfully complete all three programs only need two additional courses to earn Salve Regina's master's degree in organizational transformation and leadership.
