Cmdr. Brendon Oakley '19 (MBA)

Director, Royal New Zealand Navy

“I’m constantly seeking new opportunities for personal and professional development. I’ve often thought an MBA would be extremely useful, but never imagined I could study towards a qualification of this type while at the U.S. Naval War College. The idea seemed perfect. Like the campus itself, the Salve MBA program is small and personable. I was able to develop great relationships with my instructors and fellow students, and the MBA program is at a very high academic standard and quality.”

Julia Turnbull '23 (MBA)

University relations and TA specialist, Kautex

“I wanted to find a program that not only offered academic excellence but also aligned with my values. Salve Regina stood out for its commitment to fostering compassionate leaders who can make a positive impact in their communities. The emphasis on ethical leadership has set me apart, enabling me to lead with integrity and positively impact my organization and community. The Salve MBA program has helped me stay true to my values and integrate them into my work.”
