Enhance Your Cyber Management Skills

As more health-related devices and apps connect to the internet, privacy and security challenges multiply. Salve Regina University's graduate certificate in cybersecurity in healthcare administration provides an in-depth understanding of cybersecurity threats to health care systems, threat actors, cybersecurity risk management best practices, digital health innovation, laws and regulations applicable to electronic health records and techniques to build enterprise-wide cybersecurity awareness.

After completing the program, you will be prepared to proactively manage and mitigate current and emerging cybersecurity threats in the rapidly changing health care environment.

Our program is taught by respected cybersecurity and health care professionals with years of hands-on experience overcoming the challenges our students now face, all while respecting the University's commitment to the mercy tradition, which emphasizes personal values and professional responsibility to better meet the needs of others.

Who Will Benefit?

Professionals who hold a bachelor's or master's degree in any major are invited to apply. Students in good academic standing who wish to continue their studies may apply to the M.S. in healthcare administration program. Credits earned in the certificate program may be applied toward the master's degree consistent with University policy. Our graduate certificate in cybersecurity is designed for current and aspiring:

- Assisted living residence administrators
- Health care administrators
- Health care consultants
- Health information managers
- Hospital administrators
- Medical directors
- Medical records managers
- Nursing home administrators
- Nursing recruiters
- Operations managers
