Protect, Lead, and Serve with Compassion

Gain the knowledge and skills you need to succeed in today's increasingly technical and global environment with a master's degree in criminal justice and cybersecurity from Salve Regina University. Offered in a flexible, fully online format, our program addresses the needs and requirements of justice and law enforcement leaders along with cybersecurity and intelligence specialists and business professionals.

With concentrations in intelligence, leadership, and cyberthreat management and response, you can customize your studies to align with your career goals. And through our popular accelerated offerings, qualified Salve undergraduates can earn their bachelor's and master's degrees in just five years.

Fast-Track Your Future

In addition to the master's degree, we also offer graduate certificates in cyberthreat management and response, intelligence and analysis tradecraft, and leadership in justice, allowing you to broaden and enhance your professional career in a short amount of time with topics that are current and relevant.

Each certificate is only four courses, and fully stackable toward the master's degree, giving you the flexibility to begin with a focused area of interest and build toward a comprehensive graduate education. Whether you're just starting out in your career or looking to grow in your current role, this pathway offers both immediate impact and long-term opportunity.

Michael Teeter

Lecturer and program director, Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology

“Salve Regina’s master’s degree in criminal justice and cybersecurity prepares students to achieve their academic and professional goals. Whether you’re entering the workplace for the first time or you’re working in the field and seeking to make yourself more impactful and effective as a practitioner and leader, our program will position you for success in your chosen field.”

THE SALVE DIFFERENCE

ADVANCE ON YOUR TERMS

Offered in a fully online format, our program delivers courses in seven-week modules, allowing you to progress rapidly through your master’s degree. This modality accommodates the time demands of professionals assigned varying shifts as well as those working or deployed throughout the U.S. and in other countries.

PRACTITIONERS AS TEACHERS

As practitioners with longtime experience in their profession, our faculty know their craft. Using a blend of academic and practice approaches, they teach not just theory, but also how it applies to the work you are doing in your chosen field. Through small class sizes and personal attention, these dedicated faculty offer you a high-touch educational experience.

PURPOSE-DRIVEN EDUCATION

The evolving role of professionals in justice, government and industry demands innovative leadership that creates a culture and climate founded in respect, ethics and integrity. Guided by Salve Regina’s mercy mission, our criminal justice and cybersecurity program prepares you to serve your community with empathy and compassion.

Shane Bowes '20, '22 (M)

Connecticut state trooper

“Having the humanitarian values of Salve’s mercy mission instilled throughout my education has allowed me to be more comfortable in providing empathetic services to victims. Salve is fostering a harmonious, just and merciful perspective on life. It was interesting to see this in the context of the law enforcement field, as it shaped the way I problem solve now in my everyday work.”

Lia-Sophie Keller '23, '24 (M)

Criminal investigator for Homeland Security Investigations

“Going into my career, I felt very well prepared, and I seemed to be adjusting quicker than some students who came from different universities. Rather than just learning about criminal law and procedure and the American judicial system, I learned what it would really be like to be a part of it. The faculty did an amazing job of building the whole person. It wasn’t just about academics – it was about preparing us for real-world challenges. Salve gave me everything I needed to get to where I am today.”
