About the Program

Salve Regina’s graduate program in business administration prepares professionals to successfully lead and manage within today’s ever-evolving and increasingly global business environment. It is ideal for students seeking career advancement in fields that demand strong quantitative skills, such as accounting, finance and financial management.

In both the for-profit and not-for-profit environments, today’s executive is faced with a myriad of concerns ranging from ethical and human rights issues to globalization and environmental protection. The Salve Regina University business administration and management curriculum provides the technical knowledge and skills to appreciate and address these and other critical contemporary issues. The programs are directed toward developing leaders with a focus on ethics, organizational behavior, finance, economics, accounting and strategic management. Social purpose and workplace humanization are underlying program values aligned with the University’s mission to work for a world that is harmonious, just and merciful.

“The M.B.A. and M.S. programs at Salve Regina University give students a wealth of practical and theoretical skills that enhance their organizational success and personal career development. The newly revised curriculum reflects the challenges of organizations in today’s volatile business environment. The business savvy professionals - full-time and adjunct faculty - expand and challenge student engagement in socially and globally conscience skills. To accommodate our working adult students, flexible course offerings—both online and on campus as well as compressed courses—allow students to take two courses sequentially in one semester.”
